OG: Entering this class I thought it would be an easy semester but I was wrong!! I didn't do most of my work because I thought I would still be able to pass. But now, I'm struggling just to pass. I've learned that I will have plenty of time in the future to do what ever I want, but in the mean time I must take my education seriously.

OG: This class had undoubtedly been tough. Although my grade doesn't show the effects of a tough class, I want others to know that my success was a testament to the hard work put into class. This includes doing homework, going to math workshops, and actively asking questions in class. I know the students can be as successful if they put the effort. I could have skipped straight to Calculus through the assessment tests. But not taking a math class in a while, I felt that this class would be a perfect test to the amount of material and the pace that I can handle. I felt the quizzes were a great way to pace my homework. Not doing homework for certain quizzes showed with low grades. I feel fortunate for the success I have now. I also know that this is only the beginning and I have to maintain the same focus if I want to continue to be successful.
